What's So Great About

VOORHEES, NJ

A Train to Philadelphia

- PATCO's Ashland station on Burnt Mill Road puts Center City Philadelphia on a direct train line, and NJ TRANSIT bus 403 runs to Philadelphia as well. Route 73 crosses the township, with Interstate 295 and Route 70 close by through Cherry Hill.

Farmland Kept for Good

- Voorhees bought the 140-acre Stafford Farm in 2004 with Camden County and the state. Half of it stays open space, with a walking trail and a disc golf course, and the other half is preserved farmland, now the vineyards of Saddlehill Winery, open since 2024.

Parks in Every Section

- From the 49-acre Connolly Park and its summer concerts to Lions Lake, Kirkwood Park and the Maiaroto Sports Complex, Voorhees keeps sports complexes, playgrounds and preserved woods across the township, all smoke free and maintained without pesticides.

A Town Center for Every Season

- The former Echelon Mall is now the Voorhees Town Center, with shops, apartments and the township's municipal offices. It is also where the township holds its free Harvest Festival each October and the Winter Village and tree lighting each December.

Hockey, a Hospital and a Landmark

- The Philadelphia Flyers train at the Flyers Training Center on Laurel Oak Road, Virtua Voorhees Hospital on Route 73 has an emergency department, and Four Echelon Plaza, a 1975 office tower, joined the National Register of Historic Places in 2026.
